

Alexandra Yamamori

Can You Learn Japanese Before You Can Read?

Learning through play

See it in action

- Children start with play. Learning follows
- To finish the game, they must listen
- No instructions. No translation They get it on their own

/01

Physical Game

Learning Japanese with a robot and a booklet

Step by step missions for independent discovery. A robot companion speaks, dances, and responds - guiding play

Advised by Dr. Ayelet Weizman and Rami Hadad

/02

Digital Game

Where are the Animals?

A search game where listening comes first. To find the animal, children must listen to Japanese

Advised by Dudi Peles

Developed as part of my M.Ed. in Educational Technology - Kibbutzim College of Education, Technology and the Arts