

13.10.2026

Call for Applications: Student Mobility for Studies at the Open University of Cyprus (OUC)

The Open University of Israel participates in the Erasmus+ International Credit Mobility programme, which offers OUI students the opportunity to study at the Open University of Cyprus (OUC) for one academic semester, under the terms of the inter-institutional agreement between the two institutions.

Programme Details

- Duration: one academic semester (spring semester 2026-2027).
- Host institution: The Open University of Cyprus (OUC), Nicosia, Cyprus.
- Funding: Erasmus+ grants may be available to cover travel and subsistence expenses, subject to programme rules, eligibility criteria and available funding.
- Tuition fees: Students accepted into the programme are exempt from paying tuition fees to OUC.
- Study format: A combination of online learning and a limited number of in-person sessions.

Eligibility Requirements

- Master's Degree Students with an approved study plan
- Grades average: 80 and above
- English proficiency: exemption level
- Field of study: Must be covered by the inter-institutional agreement between the two institutions.

Study Programmes Taught in English

The Open University of Cyprus offers the following Master's degree programmes in English:

- Cognitive Systems
- Master of Business Administration \(The Open MBA\)
- Enterprise Risk Management
- International Shipping Management
- Human-Computer Interaction
- Security and Defence

האוניברסיטה הפתוחה, הקריה ע"ש דורותי דה רוטשילד, דרך האוניברסיטה 1, ת"ד 808, רעננה 4353701

For the complete list of study programmes offered by OUC, please visit the university website.

Short-Term Mobility Opportunities

Subject to Erasmus+ programme rules and approval by both institutions, short-term mobility may be available in the following cases:

- Students with fewer opportunities: Physical mobility lasting 5–30 days, combined with a mandatory virtual component.
- PhD students: Short-term physical mobility lasting 5–30 days, without a mandatory virtual component, or long-term mobility lasting 2–12 months.

Eligibility for short-term mobility will be assessed on the basis of individual circumstances and the applicable programme rules. Further information on the Erasmus+ Inclusion and Diversity Strategy in Cyprus is available in the official document.

Important Information

- The mobility period will take place during the spring semester of the academic year 2026-2027
- The number of available places and the budget are limited. Participation is subject to availability and approval.
- Students must coordinate their proposed study programme and course recognition in advance with the relevant academic representatives at OUI.
- Erasmus+ grants are awarded in accordance with the programme rules and applicable eligibility requirements.

How to Apply

Students interested in participating in the programme are invited to fill in the application form and the learning agreement attached to this Call.

After screening all applications, applicants may be invited for a personal interview.

Application deadline: 01.11.2026.

For further information, please contact Alessia Levi, Coordinator of the International Office at alessial@openu.ac.il or by phone at 09-7782078.

Best regards,

International Office
The Open University of Israel